

Call for jail to review checks on prisoners

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

HIGHPOINT Prison is to be asked to review how it checks the welfare of its inmates after inadequacies were highlighted at an inquest.

Callum Brown, aged 25, was found hanging in his cell at the prison at Stradishall, near Haverhill, by other inmates on April 8, 2013.

Mr Brown had not been seen by the prison's mental healthcare team since November 22 the previous year, despite an application form dated March 18, 2013, found in his cell requesting an appointment.

He was discharged from the mental health team's service on March 21, after apparently missing two appointments.

The jury at the inquest, which ended yesterday, concluded:

■ It was more likely than not that Mr Brown had not received notification of any mental health appointments after November 22, and this may have contributed to his death.

■ The mental health team's response to Mr Brown missing an appointment was more likely than not inadequate, and that this may also have contributed to his death.

The jury also heard on the morning Mr Brown's body was found, the prison officer who had been supposed to check the inmates overnight had not done so and had falsified the record. Another member of staff who opened the cell door had not noticed anything unusual.

Coroner Peter Dean said the inquest had highlighted "variable compliance of prison employees with instructions relating to checking prisoner wellbeing", particularly in relation to opening the hatch in the cell door or "busting the flaps".

Dr Dean said evidence given by a current HMP Highpoint prisoner, Levi Dawkins, revealed "some did 'bust the flaps' but some didn't."

Dr Dean said: "He noted that while there was an improvement after Callum's death, he also noted that some staff later reverted to their old practices."

Dr Dean said that although less variable checks would not have prevented Mr Brown's death – as rigor mortis suggested he had been dead for some time when he was found – a review could help prevent future tragedies.

He said he would be formally writing to the prison to ask for a review of staff compliance to rules about checking prisoner welfare.

Dr Dean also acknowledged that both the prison and the healthcare providers – Care UK and the Norfolk and Suffolk NHS Mental Health Trust – had made "significant changes" with regards to other deficiencies that had come to light as a result of the investigation into Mr Brown's death. This included "the adequacy of services in place at the time for following up missed healthcare appointments."

The jury also concluded that family news Mr Brown received in early April may have contributed to his death, and that the monitoring of his anti-depressant medication was more likely than not inadequate until November 22, but after that it was likely to have been inadequate.

REVIEW: HMP Highpoint, where Callum Brown was found dead in his cell, will be asked to review staff compliance with checks on prisoner wellbeing

REMINISCING: Former Project Office Furniture workers at the Haverhill at Work event

Former employees share memories

RESIDENTS turned out to share memories of working at the Project Office Furniture Factory at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday.

The event was part of Haverhill Family History Group's Haverhill at Work project, which aims to create an oral history of working life in the town and to store the memories in a digital archive.

Many of the former employees brought scrapbooks, photographs and other memorabilia.

The history group will now arrange smaller group and one-on-one interviews to be recorded for the archive.

The next event, for Addis and Wisdom employees, will take place at 2pm on February 15 in the arts centre's bar area.

POLICE

Town to share its police inspector

HAVERHILL will not have its own police inspector after cuts are implemented in April, Suffolk Constabulary has revealed.

The town will share an inspector with Sudbury, as the two are combined to form one of nine new policing "localities".

Each town will still have its own safer neighbourhood team (SNT), staffed by sergeants, PCs and PCSOs, and staffing numbers for these are set to be announced in the coming weeks.

In December, Suffolk Constabulary confirmed that the number of PCSOs at Haverhill Police Station was set to drop from eight to five, including one PCSO match-funded by Samuel Ward Academy.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Currently, Haverhill and Sudbury have separate inspectors, with Insp Peter Ferrie, based at Haverhill Police Station, and Insp Danny Cooper, at Sudbury.

Suffolk police were not able to confirm whether the new locality inspector would be one of these two officers or someone else.

The number of inspectors across Suffolk is currently 30, and is set to drop to 26 in April, with one for each locality, and others working in areas such as response.

The cuts, announced in December, were intended to help Suffolk police save £20.5 million, although this target has been reduced after a boost in funding from the Home Office.

The front desk of Haverhill Police Station is set to close from April, with only front desks at police stations in Bury St Edmunds, Ipswich and Lowestoft.

Members of the public who want to visit the station will have to make an appointment, and those needing emergency help will have to call 999 or use a handset mounted on the wall of the police station.

Haverhill Town Council has invited Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore and temporary chief constable Gareth Wilson to a meeting of the town council to discuss issues. A date for the meeting has not yet been agreed.

Police commissioner and chief constable to hold web chat

POLICE bosses will be holding a live web chat this evening.

Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore and Temporary Chief Constable Gareth Wilson will be holding the event from 6pm to 7.30pm.

They will be available to answer questions on any aspect of policing, including the £20 million programme of cuts that will be introduced in April.

Mr Passmore said: "Having direct contact with members of the public is very important to me and a key part of my role as commissioner. A crucial part of my work is to represent the views and opinions of local communities as we deliver policing across the county and this web chat is a great way for me to gather these views."

Old airfield gets 'kind' donation

A SECOND World War memorial will be kept looking as good as new – thanks to an unexpected donation.

Haverhill resident David Kilpatrick visited former airfield RAF Wrattling Common on Sunday to present the Friends of Wrattling Common with a cheque for £250.

The money will go towards the upkeep of the war memorial which is now based at the site.

Dan Heath, of the Friends of Wrattling Common, said the donation was "kind and quite unexpected".

The money was raised while Mr Kilpatrick was master of the Cambridge Lodge of Three Grand Principals.

3,300 sign rail link petition

CAMPAIGNERS have thousands of signatures in support of a new rail link and are hoping to build a business case for it.

The Rail Haverhill campaign is pushing for a rail link to run from Haverhill through Linton, Granta Park and Babraham before joining the existing line at Great Shelford.

At a meeting on Monday night, chairwoman Heike Sowa emphasised the importance of continuing with their petition, which already has 3,341 signatures, in order to be able to make their case to Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and Essex county councils.

The group planned a publicity drive including appearing at community events, sharing content about the petition on social media and getting in contact with schools along the proposed rail route.

Ms Sowa said: "With signatures we show that we have the public support and when we can show this to Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and Essex we can put our case in front of them and that's when the avalanche starts to fall. Because then they might have to pay for a feasibility study."

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A feasibility study into the possibility of having a railway along the proposed route would be the first step in the process and would help the campaigners put together a business case.

Members of the campaign group discussed approaching rail franchises as well as county councils for funding and support for the feasibility study.

Cllr Tony Brown, a member of Rail Haverhill, said at the meeting: "Really what we've got to do is try and get a business case together to prove that this is going to save the government money and bring investment to the area."

Haverhill – which has not had a rail link since the early 1960s – is thought to be the largest town in East Anglia without a train station.

The size of its population is set to soar with developments totalling more than 3,000 in the north east and the north west of the town.

The town's location on the border of Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and Essex means that several local authorities would have to be involved with the construction of the railway.

Ms Sowa said at the meeting: "The problem with Haverhill is that we are at the corner of three counties. Even though we belong to Suffolk they don't really talk about us. They will start to think about us when we show them that people want the railway."

Council tax rise wins approval

A 2 PER CENT rise in Suffolk County Council's portion of council tax was approved by its cabinet on Tuesday.

The rise – which still has to be discussed by the full council on February 11 – is equivalent to £22.50 a year for someone in council tax Band D.

The extra money would be used by the county council to fund adult social care, after the introduction of the national living wage last June drove up the costs.

In the Autumn Statement, Chancellor George Osborne said councils should raise tax by 2 per cent to cover these new costs.

The rise was approved alongside a programme of cuts hitting the fire service, libraries, and councillor locality budgets, which aim to make savings of £37 billion by 2020.

Haverhill Town Council has also increased its portion of council tax this year by 1.2 per cent, equivalent to £1.35 a year.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council has not yet set its portion of council tax, but it is set to be discussed at a cabinet meeting on February 9 and the full council on February 23.

Man who struck boys spared jail

A MAN who followed and attacked schoolboys with a piece of wood after they rang his doorbell as a practical joke, has been spared jail.

During a trial at Cambridge Crown Court in December, Steven Mynott, 42, denied following a group of four schoolboys, aged 15 and 16 years old, before hitting two of them with a length of wood in an attack that left one boy's head bleeding so heavily he thought it was raining.

Mynott was found guilty by a jury of grievous bodily harm and actual bodily harm.

At a sentencing hearing at Cambridge Crown Court on Friday, Judge Gareth Hawkesworth handed Mynott an 18-month prison sentence, suspended for two years. He was also told to do 250 hours unpaid work and pay £1,250 compensation.

James Earle, prosecuting at the trial hearing, said when passing Mynott's address in

@TaraCoxCN

Claydon Close, Castle Camps on January 24 last year, the schoolboys decided to play a practical joke by ringing a doorbell and running away.

The court heard Mynott appeared shouting he would smash and kick the boys' heads in.

The boys ran and, thinking they had lost him, started stargazing in a field.

In a police interview, one of the 15-year-old boys said: "We were stargazing and I saw a black figure come smashing out of the darkness. He hit me on the head. My friend was trying to put himself between the weapon and myself and he got hit in the shoulder."

The boy said he had been hit on the head and legs and an ambulance was called. One of his friends, also 15, had been hit on the shoulders.

The ambulance crew called police who searched Mynott's house where they discovered a large piece of wood matching the boys' description.

The wood was taken for forensic examination and had DNA of one of the boys on it.

The defence claimed Mynott had acted in self defence.

Sally Hobson, mitigating, said Mynott acted as a carer for his mother, whose health deteriorated after his father died eight years ago.

She said: "He doesn't believe his mother will live very much longer. He accepts the fear the children felt was bigger than his fear when he thought he was being burgled or there was an intruder in his house. He has resolved to never offend again and has saved up £700 compensation for the victims."

APPEAL FOR VOLUNTEERS: deputy manager of Three Counties Transport Melanie Catten with volunteer Carolyn Carter.

Call to help people stay independent

A TRANSPORT charity is appealing for volunteers to help old people get to the shops – with no driving required.

Three Counties Transport is looking for passenger assistants to ride in its buses with elderly people, performing tasks such as helping them off the bus and carrying their shopping to the front door.

Current passenger assistant Tracey White said the best thing about the role was "getting satisfaction out of it and helping others."

She added: "I think that when I'm their age I'll probably need it."

Volunteers will receive training and only need to give up as much time as suits them. Melanie Catten, of Three Counties Transport, said that even if volunteers could not make a regular commitment, the organisation could call them when it needs extra help.

To find out more or volunteer call Melanie or Lyn Davis on (01440) 712 028.

Thousands of knives handed in

MORE than 15,000 knives have been handed in to Suffolk police during a five year campaign.

A total of 2,562 knives were deposited in 2015, following on from 1,720 in 2014, 2,606 in 2013, 2,205 in 2012, and 6,125 in 2011 when the initial year-long amnesty began.

The closest static bins in the area are outside Mildenhall or Bury St Edmunds police stations, and anyone who wants to dispose of a knife should use one of the bins. There is also a temporary bin situated outside Sudbury police station.

All the knives deposited are taken to a recycling centre in Great Blakenham where they are disposed of safely.

Suffolk Chief Constable Gareth Wilson said: "It is impressive that this campaign has been running for five years and we are still seeing over 2,500 knives being deposited in 2015. This shows that not only is the project continuing to be successful but that residents of Suffolk want to help us to stop knife crime.

"Our campaign ensures that bladed items can be deposited anonymously, any day of the week and at any time."

More information about the campaign and knife crime is available at www.suffolk.police.uk.

NEW BRANCH: Poundstretcher will be opening its store on the old Co-op site next Tuesday

Budget store just days away from opening its doors

A DISCOUNT store will open next week on a site that has been derelict for four years.

A new branch of Poundstretcher will open its doors on Tuesday in the former Co-op building in Haverhill's Jubilee Walk.

The store will sell a wide range of products including bedding and kitchenware, and will including a Pet Hut store.

The new shop has 24,577 sq ft of retail space and is employing 35 people.

The store originally announced plans to open a branch on the site – unoccupied since December, 2011 – in August last year.

The store intended to open in October, but the date was pushed back to December and then to January.

Now Poundstretcher has confirmed the Haverhill branch will open on Tuesday.

"We're delighted to open such a fantastic new store

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

for the people of Haverhill," said Bhaskara Kunam, Poundstretcher regional manager.

"Poundstretcher has built an incredible reputation for value and choice since 1981, and it's hugely exciting to bring this offer to the quality-seeking shoppers of Haverhill.

"What's equally exciting is the team we have in place to serve Haverhill's customers – we're extremely pleased to have been able to bring together the kind of staff that are united in putting the customer first."

The lease on the building was negotiated by the borough council.

The site was identified as a key development opportunity in the town centre masterplan developed by ONE Haverhill last year, with plans to create a new town square named "Jubilee Place" in the car park in front of the shop.

Cllr Alaric Pugh, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for planning and growth, said: "I am delighted to hear that Poundstretcher is opening its doors next week.

"The council successfully negotiated the surrender of a lease at a long empty retail unit to enable the progression of the Haverhill masterplan.

"We have been swift to find and secure a suitable new tenant. This is good news, creating new jobs and increasing the town's retail offer. What a great start to 2016."

Stop parking on wet grass

CAN I please ask all residents of Haverhill to immediately stop parking on the wet grass/verges on Chalkstone Estate. It's getting out of hand and it will only get worse while the ground is wet.

I would also like to ask the people who run Haverhill Rovers FC on Chalkstone Way to ask that anyone using the facilities stops parking on the grass.

This problem will only get worse once the floodlit pitches get built in April. I do believe they were given locality funding for yellow police cones from Anne Gower's locality budget so could they be a good neighbour and sort this problem out please?

Tony Adams
Shetland Road
Haverhill

We can't cope with any more

I'VE just read the report on the new development in Haverhill with the building of at least 2,500 houses, minimum.

The obvious problem is going to be the access up the A1307 road to Cambridge.

As it stands, in the morning and evening, the journey that should take you no more than 30 minutes can be one and half hours on a good day. The traffic could increase by an extra 1,500 cars minimum, bringing the A1307 to a standstill.

The problem is that the price of houses in Cambridge is mind-numbing and this means that the new estate will give people houses that they can afford but they will work in Cambridge and the surrounding area and we will become a sleeper town. You will not get that many people who will buy these houses and work in Haverhill mainly because of the lack of jobs in the town.

The figures quoted by the people who will build the houses are silly – they are in it to maximise their profits so are going to put in a very low figure, realistically you are probably looking at 60% or more commuting each day.

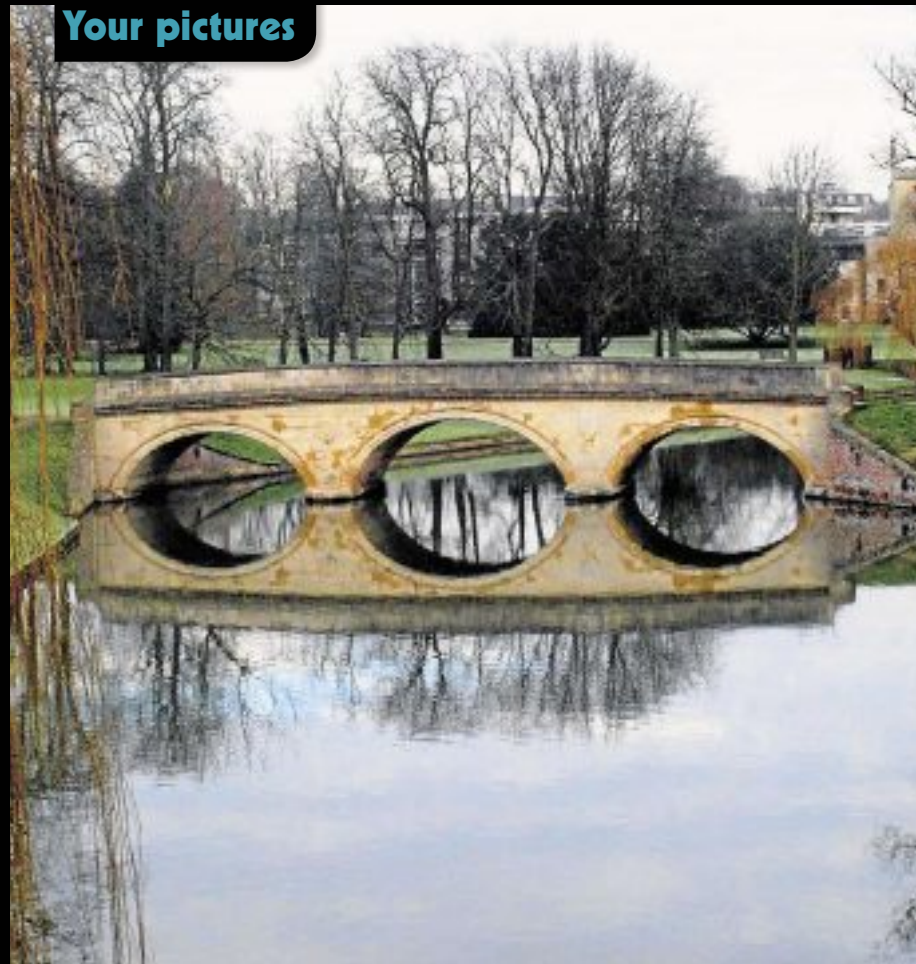

They keep on waffling on about improving the A1307 by dualling it but I have lived in Haverhill for over 25 years and nothing has ever happened over that period. Lots of hot air but no action (especially from our local MP Matthew Hancock who has achieved nothing).

The other option is to put the railway line back that Beeching closed. We are now the largest town in the UK that does not have a railway running through the town... quite an honour.

How they will sort this problem I cannot see, we need the housing but there has been no thought on the problems this will bring to the town, one of which is going to be the local surgery and the massive increase of people who will want to sign up. It is nearly impossible to get an appointment as it stands.

Air quality is a real issue

GLOBAL over-heat is often talked about as if it were an abstract threat, the consequences of which are yet to be seen. There is some irony to this, considering many of the ways that we are cooking the planet are also incredibly damaging to human health.

Take for example the case of air pollution, which the World Health Organisation has finally got round to labelling a global "public health emergency". A public ill which causes 9,500 premature deaths per year in London, and more locally in Cambridge, has led to air quality twice as bad as that in New York.

It's impossible to take this crisis – a crisis which kills several times more than the (more visible) deaths from road traffic crashes – seriously unless we are willing to fundamentally change not only our transport policy but also our economic policy. Part of the solution involves a massive shift to public transport, cycling and walking. It also involves actively halting our expansion of the very causes of this public health emergency.

We need to end the absurd idea of a new runway at a London airport: any expansion at Gatwick or Heathrow would kill even more people through air pollution (not to mention through climate chaos further down the line). Closer to home, this also means pressuring the local Labour council into a congestion charge: we are never going to end Cambridge's deadly levels of traffic pollution, until we use a few gentle sticks as well as some cycling – and train-shaped carrots.

Ultimately, only the Green Party can deliver these changes, because only we are not bound to the reckless fantasy of endless economic growth: constantly producing, consuming and discarding more and more stuff. Only we have a vision of a future where quality of life improves, independently of the quantity of stuff we make. The other parties are stuck in an utterly outdated attempt to chase their own tails, pursuing the chimera of endless quantitative increase in GDP, and making us ill and miserable in the process.

Tips to help cope with ME

YOUR readers may be familiar, some at first hand, with the considerable challenges faced by those affected by the chronic disabling condition myalgic encephalomyelitis (M.E.).

That's why our booklet, Newly diagnosed with M.E., shares key information and advice about the diagnosis, symptoms and management of M.E. Endorsed by the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE), it empowers patients to be an active partner in their own care.

Developed in consultation with healthcare professionals and our patient and carer reference group, the booklet is designed to be shared with your GP and can be downloaded for free at actionforme.org.uk or ordered by calling Action for M.E. on (0117) 927 9551.

Pair gearing up for charity cycle challenge in East Asia

A 44-YEAR-OLD man whose main cycling experience has been short trips, is to take on a 300-mile charity ride in East Asia.

Courier driver Glenn Liverside and his schoolfriend, Andy Jeffreys, will be jetting off to Vietnam and Cambodia for 12 days in October.

They will begin cycling in Ho Chi Minh City and complete their 304-mile ride at the Cambodian Angkor Wat temples.

They chose East Asia for their cycle ride to combine a charity challenge with travel ambitions.

Glenn, who lives at Queens Court, Haverhill, said: "I've heard so many stories about Vietnam – it's always somewhere I've wanted to visit."

He has been going to the gym for training on and off since October and is hoping to dust off his bike for cycle rides around Haverhill over the coming week-ends.

Each rider will raise money for a charity of their choice. Andy, who lives in Hundon, is fundraising for the Brain Tumour Charity after losing his mum and granddad to the disease, while Glenn is fundraising for Beat Bowel Cancer after his dad, Donald, died from the illness when Glenn was just 24.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

Glenn said about his dad's illness: "The ending was quite brief. We knew for about eight months. I'm just trying to raise some awareness about it."

The pair aim to raise £3,450 each to go towards their respective charities and are to hold a number of fundraising events over the coming months. These include appearing at fetes and holding a raffle at Barclays bank in Haverhill High Street, which will take place at the end of April.

Glenn is hoping also to set up a casino night at a local pub to raise further funds.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Pub holds quiz in memory of councillor

A QUIZ night and raffle held in memory of a former councillor who died last year has raised nearly £500 for a good cause.

The charity event was held at the Woolpack pub on Sunday, January 17, and was raising money for St Nicholas Hospice Care. In total, £455 was raised for the charity.

It was held in memory of the late Paul McManus, a former borough and county councillor who died aged 68 last June after battling pancreatic cancer.

His widow Elaine thanked Keeley Skipp and the Woolpack staff for organising the event, as well as the businesses which donated prizes to the raffle, and all those who bought a ticket.

Appeal after dolls and jewellery box stolen

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after dolls and a jewellery box were stolen from the Argos store in Haverhill's High Street.

The incident took place at the store on Wednesday, January 20 at around 4.15pm.

A man took the dolls and jewellery box from the shop and ran off without paying.

Police are appealing for information from anyone who saw anything suspicious or knows anything about this incident.

You can call Haverhill Police on 101, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

College

New principal takes the helm at college

A NEW principal has taken over at a school near Haverhill.

Helena Marsh has taken over as head of Linton Village College, after her predecessor Caroline Derbyshire moved to Saffron Walden County High.

Helena, who joined Linton as deputy principal in September 2014, said: "The range of situations you can go through from one hour to the next makes it an incredibly interesting job and rewarding in terms of the sphere of influence you have over young people's lives.

"I think there's something really special about village colleges. You get that real sense of community from being in the heart of the village.

"It's a real privilege."

CRIME

Thieves target new properties

THIEVES left a trail of destruction on a new development last week, as they smashed down doors and windows stealing construction materials from homes that have not even been occupied yet.

Residents are being asked to be vigilant after the incident, which took place between 5pm on Monday, January 18 and 8.30am on Tuesday, January 19 at the Arboretum development on the Haverhill Research Park in Three Counties Way.

Police say the thieves gained entry to a secure compound and broke down the doors of two of the brand new houses and gained entry to a third by smashing a window.

Once there, they stole construction materials from inside the homes, including copper piping and electrical wiring.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

Developers Taylor Wimpey say the damage to the homes has now been rectified, but the total cost of the damage and the thefts is thought to be in the region of £1,800.

No-one was in the buildings at the time, as construction work has not yet finished, and police do not have descriptions of the thieves.

A spokesperson for Taylor Wimpey said: "We reported an incident of theft last week from properties under construction at The Arboretum in Haverhill and the matter is now in police hands.

"All damage to affected properties has since been rectified.

"We would ask all residents to be vigilant and report any suspicious activity in the area to the police."

The 150 two, three, four and five-bedroom homes on the development are currently being sold for between £220,000 and £404,000.

The Haverhill Research Park also has an onsite pub, the Flying Shuttle, and a new Montessori nursery has recently opened.

If you have any information about the thefts or saw anything suspicious, call Haverhill Police on 101, quoting crime reference number 37/13039/16.

You can also contact Crimestoppers, anonymously if required, on 0800 555 111.

Save money with lifestyle changes

A CAMPAIGN to help families manage their finances after Christmas has been launched.

The "Spend Less, Live More" drive was launched on Monday and will be running for four weeks. The aim is to encourage residents to save money by making lifestyle changes like quitting smoking, avoiding pre-cooked meals and taking advantage of free exercise opportunities.

Live Well Suffolk, who are running the campaign, have produced a leaflet with a spending diary and budget-stretching tips which is available at pharmacies. They will also be sharing recipes that can be made for £5 on their social media channels throughout the campaign. Visit www.livesuffolk.org.uk.

SELF DEFENCE

This class packs a punch

Do you know how to throw a punch? HANNAH MIRSKY learnt fighting techniques and real-life tips when she went to a self-defence class in Haverhill...

I WAS nervous going into a one-on-one self defence class.

My teacher, Liam Bye, is a black belt in karate and taught at a kung fu school for years – while I feel bad when I tread on a snail.

Liam set up his martial arts school, Burn MMA, in August this year after moving to Haverhill. Based at the Real Bodies Gym in Hollands Road, he runs sessions for adults and for young people and teenagers.

His mission is to make people feel like they can protect themselves in situations where they feel unsafe.

He says: "My goal is to empower people with this knowledge: everyone has the right to protect themselves and the ones they love."

At the same time he focuses on teaching people self-restraint, not to lose control while defending themselves.

He said: "My school does focus on the discipline, the concentration and manners, and respects the overall integrity of the students."

Liam's a talkative teacher, going through his philosophies as the class goes on, explaining why you're doing each of the exercises.

SELF DEFENCE: Hannah learns techniques from teacher Liam Bye

Our session begins with a warm-up to build strength that involves press-ups and sit-ups, pausing in muscle-quivering positions to punch a pad that Liam holds out for me.

"You'll feel this tomorrow," he says, as I attempt a kind of push-up that involves bouncing up and down on bent arms – he's certainly not wrong.

After warming up, Liam teaches the guard position: one foot in front of the other, knees a little bent, with one fist forward guarding my face, the other hugged into my body. From this position, I start learning fighting techniques.

He teaches me two punches and a kick, which I can throw out in quick succession. We practise "sparring", darting round the room as I throw out the blows, first with Liam holding up a pad for me to hit, then without one. It's a real challenge trying to keep up the speed while moving about, staying alert while not knowing where my target will move next.

By now my nerves have totally melted away. I can feel myself getting hot and sweaty, but I'm not even thinking about the workout. It's great fun learning the fighting techniques, engaging, both your mind and body – and of course getting to punch something as hard as you can.

When we finish sparring, I'm pumped up and feel like I can take on anything.

My next challenge, then, is learning to throw someone to the ground. Liam's not a big man, but with his years of martial arts training, surely he's not going to be knocked down by someone who's never done this before in their life?

Turns out it's all in the technique – by wrapping your leg around someone else's and pushing their chin you can tip someone over quite easily. It's about getting them to over-balance rather than using brute force to shove them to the floor.

By the time the class comes to an end, I do feel empowered in the way Liam was aiming.

I doubt I'll be using the techniques he's taught me in real life – I'd still run away if I were threatened – but it's given me confidence knowing that I am able to throw a punch or grapple someone to the ground.

Liam has some tips on how anyone can defend themselves, even without being martial arts trained.

"Your voice is the most powerful weapon you've got," he says, and advises talking calmly to someone if you are feeling threatened. He also advises putting your arms out in a posture similar to the guard position he taught me, to mark out your space and provide a physical barrier between yourself and the other person.

While the punches I learnt might not translate directly to a real life situation, the confidence they've left me with certainly will.

Brown bin fee: how it works

RESIDENTS are set to pay £40 for garden waste collection up front at the beginning of the financial year – with no refund if they stop using the service.

Details of how the controversial new charge is likely to be implemented have been revealed in a report which will be discussed by councillors today.

The council officers' report states that the charge, – which was set at £40 at the end of last year – will cover the period from April to the following March.

The report says the charge must be paid in full before collections begin, and there will be no discounts available and no full or part refunds if the subscription is cancelled.

The report also reveals that the councils – St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Forest Heath District Council – are anticipating having to collect 50,000 abandoned brown bins from homes across West Suffolk. The process of removing the bins is set to cost £144,000. The report suggests that take-up of the scheme will be around 25,000.

HANNAH MIRSKY

The charge is set to be introduced on April 4. Councillors voted in favour of the new charge in September last year, in response to Suffolk County Council cuts which meant that West Suffolk councils would have had to find £500,000 in funding to continue providing the service for free.

At the time, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, John Griffiths, said: "I don't think anyone is suggesting it with any enthusiasm, but it is the way forward."

The cuts in county funding meant that similar fees – which are already in place in areas such as Babergh and

Mid Suffolk – are set to be introduced across the county.

The details of how the new charge will be implemented are set to be discussed at a meeting of the West Suffolk Councils' joint performance audit and scrutiny committee this afternoon at West Suffolk House in Bury St Edmunds.

According to the report, the council is promoting an online payment system for the fee and anticipating a 54 per cent take up of the online self-service option.

They are set to develop the online payments service this month, and countywide procurement of a waste services contractor should be completed in February.

The councils will then continue to promote the scheme until it is launched in April.

Soccer challenge nets cash for group

A MAN who toured 92 football grounds in 92 hours has presented a cheque to a women's group.

Damian Harriss and four friends drove 2,246 miles around the UK last April as part of a charity challenge. They had to snatch moments of sleep in the car between the stadiums as they travelled from Cambridge, up to Newcastle, across to Carlisle and down through Wales to Cardiff and Swansea.

They raised nearly £4,000 and divided it between Help for Heroes and Haverhill group Wednesdays for Women. Damian visited the Leiston Centre in Haverhill last week to present a cheque to the women's group.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Police force is at the top for equality

POLICE in Haverhill work for one of the top employers for LGBT people in the country.

Suffolk Police were rated 15th in the Stonewall Workplace Equality Index, making it the top-ranking police force in the country.

The rankings, which were announced on Tuesday, are based on a benchmarking survey which covers areas such as the implementation of effective equality policies and training and engagement with lesbian and gay staff. Chair of the Norfolk and Suffolk Gay Police Association, Sgt Steve Wright, said: "With our forthcoming recruitment of police officers, this is an ideal time to show the LGBT community of Suffolk that our organisation is one they would be very welcome in."

Get your entry in for environmental award

DON'T miss your chance to apply for the "Creating the Greenest County" awards 2016.

The awards, which celebrate environmental achievements across Suffolk, are open for entries from schools, businesses, communities and individuals until January 31.

There are 12 categories, including green hero, sustainable tourism, greenest community project, and greenest farming business, a new category for this year.

To find out more or to enter the awards, visit www.greensuffolk.org/awards2016.

CYCLING

First map of cycle routes around town is welcomed

GET CYCLING: The maps, which are available at the arts centre and online

THE first map of cycling routes around Haverhill is now available.

The map shows both road cycling routes and paths without traffic and is available at Haverhill Arts Centre and to download online.

It has been welcomed by local cyclists. Vice-chair of Haverhill Cycling Club, Simon Edwards, said: "They have done a really good job of covering the whole of the town. A lot of the routes people think are just wide footpaths. To have them marked and dedicated is really good."

He said that he hoped the map would encourage people to get around town quickly and healthily on a bike, and pointed out that many cycle paths were suitable for people who didn't want to cycle on roads.

He said: "You can actually get to places in town quicker by push-bike. It's more bike friendly than car friendly."

The map has been developed by Suffolk County Council in consultation with local partners including town clerk Colin Poole and town, borough and county councillor Tony Brown.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

Mr Poole said: "I hope it will give people the confidence to get out and about on their bikes. There are safe routes that families can use to enjoy Haverhill from a different angle, not just whizzing past in a car."

The map has been produced during Suffolk's "Year of Cycling", 2015/16.

A spokesperson for the county council said: "Suffolk County Council developed the cycle map for Haverhill as part of our existing range of town-based cycle maps. The Haverhill map was developed in partnership with a number of local people and organisations including cycling groups."

"Development of this map (and others like it) form part of the council's cycling strategy."

The map is available to download at www.suffolk.gov.uk/roads-and-transport/cycling/ or by emailing spokes.people@suffolk.gov.uk

A swinging sing-song

HEAD down to Haverhill Arts Centre next week to get groovy with some of the biggest tunes of the 1960s. Helen Abbey and her band perform songs from four of the greatest female singers of the decade – Cilla Black, Dusty Springfield, Lulu and Sandie Shaw – in a celebration of the songs and stories of the Britpop girls of the sixties. Re-live such classics as Son of a Preacher Man, Alfie, Shout and Puppet on a String on Friday, February 5, at 7.30pm. Call (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

Thursday, January 28 – Friday, February 5

■ As usual, Centre Stage Company don't disappoint with their riotous panto version of Rapunzel from today to Saturday, January 30, times below. The King and Queen of Babyllis are finally blessed with a child. However, lurking in the shadows is the evil Witch who, along with bumbling henchmen Head and Shoulders, kidnaps the young princess and locks her away. On the eve of Rapunzel's 18th birthday will her father, local hero Will and Dame Nellie Bangs, Hairdresser to the Stars, be able to find and rescue the lost princess? What a tangled life they all lead.

■ Continuing with the popular Bolshoi Ballet broadcasts, the arts centre is screening a recorded broadcast of THE TAMING OF THE SHREW on Sunday, January 31, at 3pm. Many suitors dream of marrying the lovely and docile Bianca, including Luciento. However her father will not let anyone marry her before her elder sister, the ill-tempered shrew Katharina, is herself married. French choreographer Jean-Christophe Maillot has tailored his adaptation of Shakespeare's comedy specifically to the Bolshoi dancers, and achieves a magnetic two hours of breath-taking, non-stop dance. This new production was staged exclusively for the Bolshoi and cannot be seen anywhere else!

■ Step Inside the arts centre for a celebration of the songs and stories of the big four British female divas of the swinging sixties, Cilla Black, Dusty Springfield, Lulu and Sandie Shaw, on Friday, February 5, at 7.30pm in THE 60s BRITPOP GIRL SHOW. Supported by an acclaimed live band, Helen Abbey sings classic hits including Step Inside Love, Son of a Preacher Man, Shout and Alfie. Come along and re-live the talents of the original proponents of girl power!

■ On the cinema front the arts centre has further screenings of The Lady in the Van (12A) on Monday, February 1, at 1.30pm and 7.30pm. Alan Bennett befriends an elderly homeless woman called Mary Shepherd and lets her live in a van on his driveway, in what he believes will be a short-term arrangement. Maggie Smith stars as the irascible Mrs Shepard, along with Alex Jennings, Frances de la Tour and Jim Broadbent.

■ On Thursday, February 4, at 10am the arts centre has an autism-friendly screening of The Peanuts Movie (U). Life always seems complicated for good ol' Charlie Brown, the boy who tries his best against seemingly impossible odds. When the Little Red-Haired Girl moves into his neighbourhood, Charlie Brown develops a crush on her. Meanwhile, his best friend Snoopy embarks on an epic adventure in a fantasy world.

■ On Thursday, February 4, at 7.30pm James Bond returns for a second screening of Spectre (12A).

■ Sunday, January 31, at 3pm Bolshoi Ballet, recorded broadcast THE TAMING OF THE SHREW £15/£12.50/£10

■ Monday, February 1, at 1.30pm & 7.30pm THE LADY IN THE VAN (12A) £4.50/£6/£5

■ Thursday, February 4, at 10am THE PEANUTS MOVIE (U) – Autism friendly screening £3.50

THEATRE

CENTRE STAGE: Rapunzel at the Haverhill Arts Centre
PICTURES: Andy Mayes

CRITICS: Harry and Amy Cohen, right, outside the arts centre

A great show for letting your hair down

WE sent a pair of discerning critics – Harry and Amy Cohen, aged 8 – to check out Centre Stage Theatre Company's production of Rapunzel, at Haverhill Arts Centre until Saturday. Here's what Harry and Amy had to say about the show.

Amy and Harry: We really enjoyed the pantomime. The singing and dancing was great!

Amy: Rapunzel (Victoria Harvey) was lovely. She looked just like the real princess.

Harry: I liked the part when the little children were rabbits. My favourite character was Will (Billie Allen) because Will's part was exciting. I also liked Little Red Riding Hood. She was a good singer.

Amy: I liked King Bouffant (Andy Letcher). He had great expression. The tower guards, Head (Steve Marsh) and Shoulders (Nick Selin) were really funny. They were always telling jokes. I think they were my favourites and their names are funny as it is the name of a shampoo.

Their mum Louise added: "The costumes and the set were all brilliant and set the scenes well."

"We all enjoyed this year's panto and are already looking forward to next year's production of Cinderella."

■ There are just three performances of Rapunzel left: 7pm tonight and tomorrow and 3pm on Saturday. To book tickets visit www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk or call (01440) 714 140.

Mini: First AWD in C segment launched

MINI is today launching the all new Mini Clubman ALL4 – the brand's first all-wheel drive model in the C-segment. This launch marks the Mini brand's further advance into the premium compact segment and represents the first ALL4 model to be built at Mini Plant Oxford.

Mini's ALL4 all-wheel drive system, which has previously only been offered on Mini Countryman models, has been specially redeveloped to ensure sportier handling and improved versatility to further enhance the everyday practicality of the new Mini Clubman.

Mini Clubman was launched in October 2015 and is notable as Mini's first vehicle in the competitive C-segment. Now, the brand is offering something new to the market in the form of Clubman ALL4. Available with two of the latest Mini engines, the Mini Cooper S Clubman ALL4 and the Mini Cooper SD Clubman ALL4.

The 2.0-litre 4-cylinder petrol engine with Mini TwinPower Turbo Technology is the latest example of Mini's engine technology. Offering 192bhp, the new Mini Cooper S Clubman ALL4 is combined with a 6-speed manual transmission as standard, and optionally with an 8-speed Steptronic transmission. It achieves fuel consumption of 40.9mpg with the manual transmission (44.8mpg for automatic transmission) and has CO2 emissions of 159g/km (146g/km).

The new Mini Cooper SD Clubman ALL4 features a 190bhp diesel engine with 400 NM of torque which is paired with the brand's capable 8-speed Steptronic transmission as standard. Fuel consumption on the combined cycle is 58.9mpg with CO2 emissions of 126g/km.

The new Mini Clubman ALL4 includes an exceptionally high specification, with the brand's highly acclaimed navigation system standard on all models. Furthermore, every Mini Clubman ALL4 also benefits from the Mini Excitement Package as standard, which features a projection of the brand logo on to the ground beneath the driver's side door mirror when the car is opened and closed, as well as extended interior lighting.

Production of Mini Clubman ALL4 has started at Mini Plant Oxford, with first deliveries due in April.

Prices start at £24,305.

THE TOURAN: Acclaimed by Euro-NCAP

Touran praised

THE new Touran has been acclaimed by the European New Car Assessment Programme (Euro-NCAP) as the best compact MPV. The Touran is thus one of the most crash-resistant vehicles of 2015.

The latest generation of the popular family MPV passed the demanding series of Euro-NCAP crash tests in September and gained the highest rating of five stars. The rating takes account of the results from four sub-sections: occupant protection for children and adults, pedestrian protection and driver assistance systems.

The NCAP test specifications were toughened in 2015. The introduction in particular of an additional head-on collision of the entire front of the vehicle into a solid obstacle saw increased significance placed on occupant safety. The Touran showed itself to be well equipped to cope: thanks to its optimised vehicle body structure and standard systems such as Electronic Stability Control (ESC) with countersteer assistance, including ABS and Automatic Post-Collision Braking, it is one of Europe's safest cars.

VIVARO: Number one van in UK

Vauxhall Vivaro on 14-year winning run

VAUXHALL built over 60,000 vans in the UK last year, making it Britain's number one van maker for the 14th year running, according to figures released by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders.

Driven by UK Vivaro sales of over 28,000, Vauxhall manufactured 60,280 vans at its plant in Luton, Bedfordshire.

The offer of four years' zero per cent APR finance, four years' free servicing, a four year warranty and four years' AA cover, was particularly popular with retail customers where Vauxhall was number one in this segment.

Meanwhile, Vauxhall also built 90,000 Astras at its manufacturing plant in Ellesmere Port, Cheshire. The new model is available now.

"We are delighted to be the UK's leading van manufacturer for the 14th year running," said Rory Harvey, Vauxhall's chairman and MD.

44% of parents fail on safe seats

ALMOST half of parents across Europe have little or no understanding of the term Isofix, despite it being the simplest way to secure a child seat into a car safely.

Some 44 per cent of mums and dads quizzed by child seat maker Britax had either never heard the word or had a limited understanding of what it refers to.

Badly-installed child seats are a major contributing factor to child injuries in car accidents. Isofix was designed by Britax and Volkswagen in the 1990s to give parents an easy way to remove the hassle of seatbelt-secured seats.

The system is simple. Special anchoring points attached to the car's chassis are designed into the outer rear seats of almost all modern cars, and sometimes even front passenger seats too. Any Isofix car seat should, in theory, click straight into these anchoring points and be 100 per cent secure.

Britax has released a light-hearted YouTube video featuring two seven-year-old boys discussing the benefits of the system. One of the boys is an 'experienced big brother' and explains how it works to his friend, who has a sibling on the way.

Mark Bennett, child safety expert at Britax, commented: "Britax always strives to support parents through the innovative design of their products, that's why we want to continue spreading the word about Isofix."

"Isofix is an incredibly safe, quick and easy to use system that simplifies the busy lives of mums and dads and gives them the confidence to install their child seats in an intuitive way."

Separate research by the German Insurance Institute found that only 30 per cent of seatbelt-secured child seats were installed correctly, compared to 96 per cent in Group 1 car seats.

Apple CarPlay in Volvo deal

VOLVO has enhanced its in-car connectivity offering for customers by announcing the roll-out of Apple CarPlay to its award-winning XC90 range.

Apple CarPlay enables owners to directly connect their iPhone to the XC90's Sensus Connect information and entertainment system. They can then make and receive calls, send and receive messages, get directions and choose what music to listen to by using their phone's Siri voice control personal assistant – which allows them to keep their eyes on the road at all times. Alternatively, the Sensus Connect's intuitive touch screen interface can be used to mirror their iPhone's functionality by replicating the phone's icons on the infotainment display.

Apple CarPlay also provides access to Apple Music, and apps such as Spotify, Beats Music, iHeartRadio and Stitcher.

GOODYEAR: Slow down gently!

Goodyear offers tips on coping with winter

TYRE maker Goodyear has issued handy advice to drivers in the wake of snowy weather forecasts in parts of the UK.

The company has carried out research that suggests 53 per cent of drivers find driving in snow and ice nerve-racking. Almost half (48 per cent) list de-icing car glass as a problem they could do without, and a quarter claim that wintry conditions add 10-20 minutes onto their commute.

Steve Morris, technical services manager from Goodyear Tyres UK, says to be particularly careful over bridges, which are well known for developing icy patches.

Also on the list is not to 'pump' your brakes. Goodyear is urging drivers to use the gears gently to slow down wherever possible, but to use a steady pressure on the

LOTUS: Making progress globally

Lotus boosted by 375 new car sales

IN 2015, 375 Lotus cars were registered in the UK compared to 235 in 2014 – the best registration figures achieved by Lotus in the UK since 2010.

Seven new Lotus dealerships were appointed in 2015 in the UK including two showrooms in London, the first time Lotus has had a presence in London since 2009. Lotus now has 16 dealers in the UK with more planned over the next 12 months.

Jean-Marc Gales, CEO of Group Lotus plc, stated: "These are excellent sales results and prove definitively that Lotus is back! I would like to thank our excellent dealer and service network in the UK and all our staff. I would also like to thank all our customers have both passion and desire for Lotus sports cars and know what it is like to own a pure, lightweight and high performing sports car."

Globally, Lotus has 202 dealerships.

Citroen DS 3 wins used diesel car of year award

JUST days after the announcement that 2015 was another great year for new car registrations, Diesel Car magazine is shifting the focus onto the used car market as it announces the winners in the annual Diesel Car Used Car of the Year Awards 2016.

Second hand editions of every car sold in the UK were carefully examined, with winners announced in eight key categories. Expert judges assessed each car for all-round ability, value for money, fitness for purpose, as well as affordability, and came up with a shortlist of 16 vehicles that deliver a winning formula for used car buyers. But with only one winner possible, the used car gurus crowned the DS 3 as our best buy for 2016.

The DS 3 also knocked the Ford Fiesta into second place in the small car category, while Ford's Focus grabbed the top spot in the medium car category, beating the Audi A3. BMW's 3 Series won the accolade of best large car, with the Skoda Yeti awarded the title of Diesel Car best crossover for 2016.

Ford's Mondeo ran away with the

CITROEN DS 3:
Used diesel star

honours in the estate car category, narrowly beating the Jaguar XF Sportbrake, and Honda's CR-V won best 4x4. In the performance car category, the Skoda Octavia vRS accelerated ahead of its sister car, the Volkswagen Golf GTD, securing first place, while in the best Eco Car category, the long-running Toyota Prius grabbed the green gong.

In announcing the winners, Diesel Car editor Ian Robertson said: "With a huge range of different makes and models on offer, it's important to steer buyers in the right direction so they don't end up buying a lemon." He further commented: "This year's winner is the DS 3. It's got the looks, the handling and it's cheap to run, while the DS 3's fresh face stands out from the used car crowd."

The Used Car of the Year Awards issue is on sale now, online via iTunes and at "all good newsagents".

Occupational Health Technician (28 hours per week)

Occupational Health and Safety Service • £21,605-£25,023 pro rata

The Occupational Health Service is looking to employ an enthusiastic Occupational Health Technician to join our busy team. The Occupational Health Service provides services to over 11,000 University of Cambridge staff and to certain student categories. The main purpose of this role is to assist in the delivery of occupational health services under the supervision of a qualified Occupational Health Adviser. The role involves a range of clinical and administrative work activities consistent with statutory health and safety legislation as well as local policies and procedures.

You should be self-motivated, well organised, prepared to use your initiative, have excellent communications skills, good IT skills and be able to work independently as well as part of a team. Familiarity of occupational health practice would be an advantage.

The post holder will undertake a comprehensive training programme and competency to practice will be assessed.

Once an offer of employment has been accepted, the successful candidate will be required to undergo a Disclosure and Barring Service check (enhanced with adults' barred list).

To apply online for this vacancy and to view further information about the role, please visit: <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/9212>.

Informal enquiries may initially be addressed to Jane Smith at japs2@cam.ac.uk or telephone +44 (0)1223 336595.

Please quote reference AN08122 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Closing date: 05 February 2016

Service Desk Assistant

University Information Services • £21,605-£25,023

University Information Services provides IT facilities for academic use across the University and IT infrastructure for academic and administrative use across the University. We are currently seeking a Service Desk Assistant to work as part of the Service Centre team focusing primarily, but not exclusively, on user account administration and software distribution.

Ideally you will have a good education to 'A' level or equivalent. You will have a good working knowledge of a range of desktop computers and commonly used application programs (e.g. word processors, mail clients, databases etc.) and a basic understanding of computer hardware. You will have excellent interpersonal skills, and have good organisational skills, and ability to work under pressure in a team and on own initiative as well as being accurate. Experience in a service environment where dealing with people, enquiries and problems are involved is very desirable.

To apply online for this vacancy and to view further information about the role, please visit: <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/9271>.

For an informal discussion about the post please contact Emma Lilley on 01223 330123.

Please quote reference VC08129 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

The closing date for applications is Friday 12th February 2016. It is intended that interviews will be held on Thursday 25th February 2016.

The University values diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity.

The University has a responsibility to ensure that all employees are eligible to live and work in the UK.

CHRIST'S COLLEGE Cambridge

Christ's College is seeking to fill the following vacancies:

ACCOUNTS ASSISTANT

Part-time, hours negotiable; Salary £21,605 - £25,023 (FTE).

Joining a small team reporting to the College Accountant, the post holder will be primarily responsible for the College's purchase ledger, but will also provide cover for payroll and assist with other finance tasks. The successful candidate will be educated to at least GCSE level in Maths and English and, ideally, will hold a recognised qualification in bookkeeping. Hands-on experience of bookkeeping and payroll processing are essential.

The closing date for receipt of applications is noon on Monday 15th February 2016 and interviews will be held during the following week.

SENIOR NIGHT PORTER

Dedicated nights; Salary £29,081 - £30,784 for a 55 hour week

Supervising the Porters working the night shift, this role will help in providing a comprehensive front of house and security service for the College and will be the first point of contact for the Head Porter and his deputy. Working 55 hours per week in shifts of 11 hours as part of a rota system, the successful candidate will be a self-starter, able to demonstrate experience in a similar field (ie security, customer service) and possess a courteous and professional approach.

The closing date for receipt of applications is noon on Tuesday 16th February 2016 and interviews will be held on Tuesday 23rd February 2016.

Other benefits for both posts include 36 days' holiday pa (inclusive of bank holidays); membership of a contributory pension scheme and free meals in College.

To apply, please submit a completed application form with covering letter outlining your suitability for the post by the appropriate closing date. Application forms, job descriptions and person specifications are available from the College website at www.christs.cam.ac.uk/jobs.

Applications may be sent by e-mail to agb43@cam.ac.uk or by post addressed to the HR Manager, Christ's College, St Andrew's Street, Cambridge CB2 3BU.

Christ's College is an equal opportunities employer

Babraham Bioscience Technologies Ltd ESTATE MAINTENANCE AND WASTE RECYCLING OPERATOR

Starting salary £15,500 - £16,500 per annum + Benefits.

The Babraham Research Campus is considered to be the UK's leading campus to support early-stage bioscience enterprise. World class research and business come together to promote innovation and strengthen links between academia and the commercial world. Babraham Bioscience Technologies (BBT) is the company that manages and develops the Babraham Research Campus, supporting and promoting the regional and UK bioscience ecosystem. It has responsibility for the administration and commercial development of the site for the benefit of all the tenant companies including the Babraham Institute.

A new and exciting opportunity exists for an enthusiastic and ambitious person to join BBT's Campus Estate Management Team who are responsible for maintaining and managing the 430 acres of estate grounds, which are a mixture of woodland, meadows, formal parkland and conservation areas. The post holder will have the opportunity to be involved in all aspects of maintaining the grounds. The post holder will also be involved in the recycling and disposal of campus waste, which forms an important part of our environmental objectives.

We are seeking applications from candidates who have a keen interest in countryside and environmental conservation, who have the ability to work on their own initiative as well as part of a team. Previous experience of working in an estate environment would be advantageous.

Further details are available electronically from our web site: www.babraham.com. To apply, please send a copy of your CV and covering letter to btt.personnel@babraham.co.uk

The closing date for completed applications is 10th February 2016. BBT is an equal opportunities employer.

Borough hold firm for Leiston victory

Football

HAVERHILL Borough withstood a late fight back at Leiston reserves to clinch a 2-1 victory in the Thurlo Nunn League, First Division.

Two first-half goals were enough for the visitors on a heavy pitch that made it difficult for both sides to play good football.

Borough created the best chance early on when Harry Halls forced the Leiston keeper into a decent save in the 16th minute.

And they broke the deadlock five minutes later when Rory Bone slid the ball into the path of Matt Staines who fired into the net.

The hosts almost replied immediately when Jack Baker headed over from a corner, but Borough doubled their advantage before the interval.

Ryan Swallow did well to play the ball out to Halls, and his cross fell at the feet of Tommy Hardwick.

His shot was blocked but the ball rebounded to Bone who made no mistake to make it 2-0.

Leiston created the best chances in the second half, twice forcing borough keeper Graham Smith into good saves early on.

Borough substitute Aaron Forshaw went close but Leiston pulled a goal back from a corner two minutes from time.

Smith had to make another good save to preserve Borough's lead, and his team then held on for their first win of 2016.

Borough again had to withstand a late comeback when they beat Cornard United in the First Division Cup on Wednesday night.

Craig Pruden put Borough in front in the 10th minute, before Harry Halls doubled the lead with a penalty.

Pruden extended the hosts' lead in the second half, and although Cornard scored two late goals, the hosts held on for victory.

In the Premier Division, Haverhill Rovers were up against leaders Norwich United and went down to a 1-0 loss.

Williamson on form to secure stableford win

MANDY Williamson triumphed when Haverhill ladies held their Saturday stableford.

Williamson scored 31 points, finishing three ahead of runner-up Anne Reed, with Lyn Fish third on 27.

Williamson had another reason to celebrate as well, with her and Pat Wellstead teaming up to win the ladies' Winter Foursomes final.

The pair beat ladies' captain Val Shipp and Fish in the decider to claim the overall competition victory.

The latest round of the Suffolk Winter Alliance at Waldringfield saw 103 players, including five professionals, competing for honours.

The professional prize was won by Sam Forgan of Stowmarket with a five-under-par 66 and the runner-up was Patrick Spraggs of Woodbridge with 71.

The team event, with any two from four scores to count, was won by the Stoke-by-Nayland foursome of John Sandford, Mark Chaplin, Richard Bland and Daniel Goddard with 89pts.

Sam Ward, David Hughes, Andy Baker and Jason Finbrar took second on countback, due to a superior back nine performance, from Sam Forgan, Ben Forgan, Andy Forgan and Trevor Golton after both teams scored 88.
